

Fifty Shades of Corruption

The Oregonian

"Cylvia Hayes directed state officials on policy she was being paid to promote"

WJ WILLAMETTE WEEK

"FBI is Investigating Oregon First Lady Cylvia Hayes"

Los Angeles Times

"Hayes received $118,000 through the Clean Economy Development Center in Washington, D.C., while serving as an unpaid energy advisor to her then-boyfriend."

The Oregonian

"Not only is Kitzhaber's support for the low carbon fuel standard tainted by ethically questionable behavior now, but it has been for years."

BUT THE FACTS ARE BLACK AND WHITE...
Kitzhaber and Cylvia's Hidden Gas Tax Will Hurt Oregonians.

SESSION WATCH
Project of OCWF
P.O. Box 130
Sublimity, OR 97385

Representative Val Hoyle

plans to vote for the hidden gas tax on middle class Oregonians that's at the center of the scandal getting national attention.

The Governor's girlfriend, Cylvia Hayes, is pushing a hidden gas tax that will raise your gas prices by as much as 19 cents per gallon.

Hayes received $118,000 from a "clean energy" group that will benefit from taxing you!

While Kitzhaber and his Girlfriend cash in...
You will pay more at the pump.

"It should be weighing on the mind of every Democratic lawmaker who will be asked in the coming weeks to support the bill, which gives the green light to a low-carbon fuel standard that could, according to the state's own estimate, boost fuel prices by as much as 19 cents per gallon."

"Supporting tainted legislation that creates bad policy and hinders the pursuit of good policy would be inexplicable."

- Oregonian Editorial Board,
February 5, 2015

Email or call Val Hoyle and tell her to vote NO on Senate Bill 324 and send a message that we expect more from our elected officials than Corruption and Cover-ups.